

A world map illustrating the distribution of two groups of countries. The orange-colored countries include Canada, the United States, Mexico, Central America, the Caribbean, South America, and most of Europe, Africa, and Asia. The teal-colored countries include Iceland, Greenland, the British Isles, Scandinavia, Russia, and several countries in Africa and Asia.

